- ▶ Case numbers are climbing rapidly in the United States, though they remain well below peak levels. Hospitalizations and deaths are also increasing, but at a slower pace.
- ▶ As the Delta variant has spread, infection levels have soared in parts of Missouri, Arkansas, Louisiana and Florida. Many counties with the highest case and hospitalization rates have struggled to get people vaccinated.
- ▶ Reports of new cases are rising in all 50 states, though infection levels remain quite low in much of the Northeast and Upper Midwest.
- ▶ Vaccines are widely available and effective against the Delta variant, but fewer than half of Americans are fully vaccinated.
- ▶ Masks are again required indoors in Los Angeles County, Calif., where reports of new cases have soared to more than 1,400 a day, an eightfold increase in one month.
